Postavy Army Barracks is located 3 kilometers (km) east of Postavy (55-07N 026-50E) along the Postavy-Krulevshchina rail line (Figure 1). The installation does not appear to be directly rail served, but a good road leads to a rail siding one km northwest of the installation. Secondary roads connect with Postavy and the all-weather Polotsk-Vilnius highway. An abandoned tank firing range located 4 km northeast and a probable tracked-vehicle driver training course located 5.5 km southwest are associated with this installation. Postavy Army Barracks (AL-3) is located 5 km west.

The installation (Figures 2 and 3) covers approximately 270 acres and contains three administration buildings, 10 barracks, four probable barracks, 27 support buildings, 29 storage buildings, three possible storage buildings, 41 probable dependent quarters, and two vehicle maintenance areas with 12 vehicle sheds, two maintenance buildings and five support buildings.

The area is covered by [REDACTED] photography and five KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED] Comparative analysis reveals heavy activity in the summer months and reduced activity in the winter months. Significant changes include the addition of 41 probable dependents quarters, eight storage buildings, 12 support buildings, and three vehicle sheds between [REDACTED] Four additional storage buildings and three possible storage buildings were first observed on [REDACTED] coverage.
